Patient Information

Last Name: Smith

First name: Jackson

DOB: 1/19/92

Gender: M

Batch ID: MX-X01CC

Pre-Injection: patient appears healthy.

Injection (1/13/09):

Stage I. [0-3hrs after injection] Excruciating pain starting in the outer limbs and spreading rapidly to the rest of the body.

Stage II. [4-7hrs] Heart increases while Blood Pressure decreases.

Stage III. [8-10hrs] Heart Rate steadied around 130bpm, The Pain dissipated.

Stage IV. [10-12hrs] The Patient appeared to return to normal—however several small changes have been noted.

Injection II (1/17/09)

The patients Cognitive abilities nearly tripled; now exhibiting the precursors to psychokinesis. It has been recommended that the Patient be moved to a more secure location.

A strange incident occurred today—the patient was reported missing from his room—around that time, several members of my staff reported hearing a voice [more like a scream] echoing through the facility. At 15:09 a report came in about a semi exposed man standing outside of the facility. He was reported to have been smashing his head against the wall.

However by the time security got to the location, the man was gone. At the same time the patient was reported to have returned to his room.

Post-Injection (1/21/09)

The Patient was reported M.I.A at 09:03 today.

FURTHER TESTING IS NEEDED
