

When approaching issues of sensitive nature, it is important to understand the risks. The following are generic tips that address most commonly-encountered problems.

- Always carry salt when traveling.
- If unwanted entities address you, it is best to ignore them.
- Do not enter unsecured quarters after 2 a.m.
- In cases where persons appear different, staves have sometimes proven helpful.
- Do not write down passwords or incantations.
- Harsh climates may contribute to adverse behavior.
- Time is fluid.
- The pen is mightier than the sword.

Should you have specific questions, please contact us directly.