

Ian

I've been forced to go off line for a week or two because of some official investigations into unauthorized entries into several government databases. (hah!)

I have managed to dig up some info for you though. I hope you can put it to good use. I thought sending it to Will would be the best chance of getting it to you.

CyberGosse