Roger Mestum

Also known as Roger Murder, Roger Heavy Hands, Roger the Maniac, Roger Meat
Age 41

Place of Birth: New York City

Early life unknown but came to prominence in the Vertao crime family in New York City in 1985 as a "go to" guy for dirty work. He was suspected as the hitter in several gangland murders around the tri-state NYC area in 1986 thru 1993.

Had a falling out with a Vertao Capo which lead to his attempted murder in 1994.
Mestum survived the hit and retaliated by setting the Nice Time Dance Club (a family run business) on fire. 12 confirmed dead including the Niko Vertao, brother of the Boss.

Mestum is believed to have fled to Miami or offshore islands for a time. He next resurfaced in 1998 as a hitter in a string of South Florida bank robberies. A botched robbery at a liquor store lead to the deaths of 2 of his compatriots and the loss of his trail.

2001 thru 2005 - Mestum has been off the radar with little seen of him. Possible contacts include (see relevant files for more information) Johnny Ostankois [AUTHORIZATION
