

March 24th, 2003

Talked with Shira today. She is having separation anxiety after her parents' divorce. We made quite a bit of progress showing her how to distract herself or have backup plans for if her father forgets to show up for their weekly meetings. She simply needs to not rely on him as much as she does.

~~I keep seeing that thing, that bear... it's everywhere.~~